CAUSE OF DEATH in plain terms, so that a correspondent may understand it. Do not use abbreviations or technical terms. Do not report symptoms, but the disease causing death. If from violence, state the nature of injury and whether accidental, suicidal or homicidal. If from accident, state whether it occurred in a factory or in the home, or in what public place. If from disease, state the cause, if known, though a contributory cause may be given. If the disease has been of short duration, state the cause of the last illness first, and then the primary cause, with the duration of each. If the death was sudden, or if the deceased was found dead, state the fact. If a woman, state whether recently confined. If an infant, state whether born alive. If stillborn, or died soon after birth, or before birth, so state. If uncertain whether stillborn or born alive, so state. If the deceased was a female, state whether pregnant at the time of death. If the death was due to a surgical operation, state the nature of the operation, the date on which it was performed, and the name and address of the surgeon. If there was an autopsy, state what anatomical examination revealed. If the death was caused by a violent act of another, state whether any person has been arrested on charge of having committed the act. If not, state whether the coroner has been notified. If the death occurred in a hospital or institution, state the length of time the deceased was under observation there. If the death occurred in a penal institution, or while the deceased was under the sentence of the court, so state. If the deceased was not a resident of the place in which death occurred, so state, and give former residence, if known. If the deceased was a transient or stranger, so state, and give place where disease was contracted, if known. If the deceased was married, widowed, or divorced, state the name of husband or wife. If death occurred in a hospital or institution, give its name instead of street and number. The above instructions are intended to secure a complete and correct statement of the cause of death, which is very important. See instructions on back of certificate.
